EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q (this "Report") combines the quarterly reports on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2026, of Regency Centers Corporation and Regency Centers, L.P. Unless stated otherwise or the context otherwise requires, references to "Regency Centers Corporation" or the "Parent Company" mean Regency Centers Corporation and its controlled subsidiaries and references to "Regency Centers, L.P." or the "Operating Partnership" mean Regency Centers, L.P. and its controlled subsidiaries. The terms "the Company," "Regency Centers," "Regency," "we," "our," and "us" as used in this Report mean the Parent Company, the Operating Partnership and their controlled subsidiaries, collectively.

The Parent Company is a real estate investment trust ("REIT") and the general partner of the Operating Partnership. As the sole general partner of the Operating Partnership, the Parent Company has exclusive control of the Operating Partnership's day-to-day management. The Operating Partnership's capital includes general and limited common partnership units ("Common Units"). As of September 30, 2026, the Parent Company owned approximately 97.9% of the Common Units in the Operating Partnership. The remaining Common Units, which are all limited Common Units, are owned by third party investors. In addition to the Common Units, the Operating Partnership has also issued two series of preferred units: the 6.250% Series A Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Units (the "Series A Preferred Units") and the 5.875% Series B Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Units (the "Series B Preferred Units"). The Parent Company currently owns all of the Series A Preferred Units and Series B Preferred Units. The Series A Preferred Units and Series B Preferred Units are sometimes referred to collectively as the "Preferred Units."

The Company believes combining the quarterly reports on Form 10-Q of the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership into this single report provides the following benefits:

- Enhances investors' understanding of the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership by enabling investors to view the business as a whole in the same manner as management views and operates the business;
- Eliminates duplicative disclosure and provides a more streamlined and readable presentation; and
- Creates time and cost efficiencies through the preparation of one combined report instead of two separate reports.

Management operates the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership as a single business. The management of the Parent Company consists of the same individuals as the management of the Operating Partnership. These individuals are officers of the Parent Company, and officers and employees of the Operating Partnership.

The Company believes it is important to understand the key differences between the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership in the context of how the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership operate as a consolidated company. The Parent Company is a REIT, whose only material asset is its ownership of Common and Preferred Units of the Operating Partnership. As a result, the Parent Company does not conduct business itself, other than acting as the sole general partner of the Operating Partnership, issuing public equity from time to time and guaranteeing certain debt of the Operating Partnership. The Parent Company has no direct indebtedness outstanding as of September 30, 2026, but guarantees all of the unsecured debt of the Operating Partnership. The Operating Partnership holds all the assets of the Company and ownership of the Company's subsidiaries and equity interests in its joint ventures. Except for net proceeds from public equity issuances by the Parent Company, which are contributed to the Operating Partnership in exchange for Common Units or Preferred Units, the Operating Partnership generates all other capital required by the Company's business. These sources include the Operating Partnership's operations, its direct or indirect incurrence of indebtedness, and the issuance of Common Units and Preferred Units.

Shareholders' equity, partners' capital, and noncontrolling interests are the main areas of difference between the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Parent Company and those of the Operating Partnership. The Operating Partnership's capital includes the Common Units and the Preferred Units. The limited partners' Common Units in the Operating Partnership owned by third parties are accounted for in partners' capital in the Operating Partnership's financial statements and outside of shareholders' equity in noncontrolling interests in the Parent Company's financial statements. The Preferred Units owned by the Parent Company are eliminated in consolidation in the accompanying consolidated financial statements of the Parent Company and are classified as preferred units of the general partner in the accompanying consolidated financial statements of the Operating Partnership.

In order to highlight the differences between the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership, there are sections in this Report that separately discuss the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership, including separate financial statements, controls and procedures sections, and separate Exhibit 31 and 32 certifications. In the sections that combine disclosure for the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership, this Report refers to actions or holdings as being actions or holdings of the Company.

As general partner with control of the Operating Partnership, the Parent Company consolidates the Operating Partnership for financial reporting purposes, and the Parent Company does not have assets other than its investment in the Operating Partnership. Therefore, while shareholders' equity and partners' capital differ as discussed above, the assets and liabilities of the Parent Company and the Operating Partnership are the same on their respective financial statements.

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

General

Regency Centers Corporation (the "Parent Company") began its operations as a REIT in 1993 and is the general partner of Regency Centers, L.P. (the "Operating Partnership"). The Parent Company primarily engages in the ownership, management, leasing, acquisition, development, and redevelopment of shopping centers through the Operating Partnership and has no other assets or liabilities other than through its investment in the Operating Partnership. The Parent Company guarantees all of the unsecured debt of the Operating Partnership. As of September 30, 2026, the Parent Company, the Operating Partnership, and their controlled subsidiaries on a consolidated basis (the "Company" or "Regency") owned 395 properties and held partial interests in an additional 91 properties through unconsolidated Investments in real estate partnerships (also referred to as "joint ventures" or "investment partnerships").

Basis of Presentation

The information included in this Report should be read in conjunction with the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 (the “Annual Report on Form 10-K”), as certain disclosures in this Report that would duplicate those included in such Annual Report on Form 10-K are not included in these consolidated financial statements. The consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments which are, in the opinion of management, necessary to fairly state the results for the interim periods presented. These adjustments are considered to be of a normal recurring nature.

Estimates, Risks and Uncertainties

The preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements in conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and disclosure of commitments and contingent assets and liabilities, as of the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The most significant estimates in the Company's financial statements relate to the net carrying values of its real estate investments, collectibility of lease income, and acquired lease intangible assets and liabilities. It is possible that the estimates and assumptions that have been utilized in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements could change significantly if economic conditions were to change.

The success of the Company's tenants in operating their businesses and their corresponding ability to pay rent may be influenced by macroeconomic conditions, including inflation, elevated interest rates, volatility in energy prices, and changes in consumer confidence and spending. Additionally, geopolitical challenges, including the war involving Russia and Ukraine and conflicts in the Middle East, could adversely impact the U.S. economy and the operating and financial success of the Company's tenants.

Changes in government policies, including trade and tariff policies, tax and immigration policies, federal government spending, and economic sanctions, as well as monetary policy decisions by the Federal Reserve, could also impact economic conditions. These factors, individually or collectively, could result in higher operating costs for tenants, reduced consumer confidence and spending, slower economic growth, and potentially a recession, thereby adversely impacting tenants' ability to pay rent and future demand for space in shopping centers, which could adversely impact occupancy rates and rents. The potential impact of these macroeconomic, geopolitical, and policy-related factors on the Company's financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows continues to depend on the extent and duration of these risks and uncertainties. See Item 1A of Part I of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K, as supplemented by the discussion in Item 1A of Part II of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, for a more detailed discussion of the Risk Factors potentially impacting the Company's business and results of operations.

Investment Risk Concentrations

As of September 30, 2026, no single tenant comprised 10% or more of our aggregate annualized base rent ("ABR"). As of September 30, 2026, the Company had three geographic concentrations that individually accounted for at least 10% of its aggregate ABR. Real estate properties located in California, Florida and the New York-Newark-Jersey City core-based statistical area accounted for 24.7%, 19.9% and 13.0% of ABR, respectively. As a result, this geographic concentration of our portfolio makes it potentially more susceptible to adverse weather, natural disasters or economic events that may impact these locations. None of Regency's shopping centers are located outside the United States.

Consolidation

The Company consolidates properties that are wholly-owned and properties where it owns less than 100% but holds a controlling financial interest in the entity. Controlling financial interest is determined using an evaluation based on accounting standards related to the consolidation of Variable Interest Entities ("VIEs") and voting interest entities.

Ownership of the Parent Company

The Parent Company currently has a single class of common stock and two series of preferred stock outstanding.

Ownership of the Operating Partnership

The Operating Partnership's capital includes Common Units and Preferred Units. As of September 30, 2026, the Parent Company owned approximately 97.9% of the outstanding Common Units, with the remaining limited partners' Common Units held by third parties ("Exchangeable operating partnership units" or "EOP units"). The Parent Company currently owns all of the Preferred Units.

Real Estate Partnerships

As of September 30, 2026, the Company held partial ownership interests in 108 properties through various real estate partnerships, of which 17 are consolidated partnerships. These partnerships were formed for the purpose of owning and operating real estate properties. The Company's partners in these arrangements include institutional investors, real estate developers or operators, and passive investors (collectively, the "Partners" or "Limited Partners"). The Company’s involvement in these partnerships is through its ownership of its equity interests and its role in property-level management.

The assets of these partnerships are restricted to use by the respective partnerships and cannot be directly reached by general creditors of the Company. Similarly, the obligations of the partnerships are backed by, and can only be settled through the assets of these partnerships or by additional capital contributions by the partners, except to the extent that the Company has provided contractual payment guarantees.

Some of these entities have been determined to be variable interest entities ("VIEs") under applicable accounting guidelines. This determination is primarily based on the assessment that the Limited Partners lack substantive kick-out rights (i.e., the ability to remove the general or managing partner with a simple majority vote or less) and do not possess substantive participating rights.

For those VIE partnerships in which the Company is deemed to be the primary beneficiary in accordance with GAAP, the Company consolidates the entity in its financial statements and the Limited Partners’ ownership interests in such entities are reported as noncontrolling interests.

The carrying amounts of VIEs' assets and liabilities included in the Company's consolidated financial statements, exclusive of the Operating Partnership, are as follows:

(in thousands)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Assets
Real estate assets, net	$ 268,299	332,759

Tenants' security, escrow deposits and prepaid rent	908	960
Lease liabilities	—	19,559
Total Liabilities	$ 46,800	67,167

For partnerships in which the Company is not the primary beneficiary and does not hold a controlling financial interest but is able to exercise significant influence, the Company accounts for its investments using the equity method of accounting.

Revenues, and Tenant and other Receivables

Income within Management, transaction, and other fees is primarily derived from contracts with the Company's investments in real estate partnerships. The primary components of these revenue streams, the timing of satisfying the performance obligations, and amounts are as follows:

		Three months ended September 30,		Nine months ended September 30,
(in thousands)	Timing of satisfaction of performance obligations	2026	2025	2026	2025

Total management, transaction, and other fees		$ 7,140	6,720	$ 21,265	20,776

The accounts receivable for total management, transactions, and other fees, which are included within Tenant and other receivables, net in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets, are $17.4 million and $17.8 million, as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The following table provides a brief description of recent accounting pronouncements and the expected impact on our financial statements:

Standard	Description	Effective date	Effect on the financial statements or other significant matters
Recently issued:
ASU 2024-03, Income Statement—Reporting Comprehensive Income—Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses ASU 2025-01, Income Statement - Reporting Comprehensive, Income - Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40), Clarifying the Effective Date	ASU 2024-03 requires public business entities to provide additional disclosures that disaggregate certain income statement expense captions into specified categories. The ASU does not impact the presentation of expenses on the face of the income statement but requires additional footnote disclosures to provide users of the financial statements with greater insight into the nature and composition of reported expenses.	Fiscal years beginning January 1, 2027, and interim periods for fiscal years beginning January 1, 2028; Early adoption permitted.	The Company is assessing the impact this ASU will have on the Company's financial statement disclosures. While the adoption of this standard is not expected to have a material impact on the financial position or results of operations, it will require enhanced footnote disclosures related to the disaggregation of income statement expenses.
ASU 2025-03, Business Combinations (Topic 805) and Consolidation (Topic 810): Determining the Accounting Acquirer in the Acquisition of a Variable Interest Entity	ASU 2025-03 clarifies the guidance in determining the accounting acquirer in a business combination effected primarily by exchanging equity interests when the acquiree is a VIE that meets the definition of a business.	January 1, 2027; Early adoption is permitted.	The Company is currently evaluating the impact of this ASU, but the adoption will not have a material effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.
ASU 2025-06, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other—Internal-Use Software (Subtopic 350-40): Targeted Improvements to the Accounting for Internal-Use Software	ASU 2025-06 amends certain aspects of the accounting for and disclosure of software costs and makes targeted improvements for accounting for internally developed software to be sold or marketed externally.	January 1, 2028; Early adoption is permitted.	The Company is currently evaluating the impact of this ASU, but the adoption will not have a material effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.
ASU 2026-02, Environmental Credits and Environmental Credit Obligations (Topic 818)	ASU 2026-02 establishes a comprehensive accounting framework for environmental credits and related environmental compliance obligations. The ASU provides guidance on the recognition, measurement, presentation, derecognition, and disclosure of environmental credits, including renewable energy certificates, carbon offsets, emissions allowances, and similar instruments.	January 1, 2028; Early adoption is permitted.	The Company is currently evaluating the impact of this ASU, but the adoption will not have a material effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

[2] This property was held within a single property unconsolidated real estate partnership, in which the Company held a 66.7% ownership interest. Effective January 1, 2025, the Company purchased its partner's 33.3% ownership interest. Upon acquisition, this property was consolidated into Regency's financial statements.

[3] In July 2025, the Company completed an acquisition of five operating properties located in Orange County, California, for $357 million. The purchase price was funded through a combination of units of the Operating Partnership issued at $72 per unit, and the assumption of $150 million of secured mortgage debt with a weighted average interest rate of 4.2% and a weighted average remaining term of approximately 12 years.

[4] These properties were held within single property unconsolidated real estate partnerships, in which the Company held a 50.0% ownership interest in each. Effective August 1, 2025, the Company purchased each of its partners' remaining 50.0% ownership interests. Upon acquisition, these properties were consolidated into Regency's financial statements.

3. Property Dispositions

[1] As of September 30, 2026, 77.3% of the variable rate debt is fixed through interest rate swaps.

[2] The Company has the option to extend the maturity date by two additional six-month periods beyond the Scheduled Maturity Date set forth in the table above. Weighted average effective rate for the Line is calculated based on a fully drawn Line balance using the period end variable rate.

Significant financing activity during 2026 includes:

On February 2, 2026, $88.0 million of a fixed rate mortgage loan was repaid at maturity.

On February 18, 2026, the Company issued $450.0 million aggregate principal amount of senior unsecured notes due 2033 (the “2026 Notes”). The 2026 Notes were issued at 99.376% of par and bear interest at a rate of 4.50% per annum.

On each of May 11 and August 11, 2026, the Company repaid $100.0 million of unsecured private placement notes at maturity, for an aggregate debt repayment of $200.0 million. The repayments were funded with available liquidity, including proceeds from the Company’s February 2026 Notes offering.

Scheduled principal payments and maturities on notes payable and the unsecured credit facility were as follows:

The Company was in compliance as of September 30, 2026, with all debt covenants.

6. Derivative Instruments

The Company may use derivative financial instruments, including interest rate swaps, caps, options, floors, and other interest rate derivative contracts, to hedge all or a portion of the interest rate risk associated with its borrowings. The Company does not intend to utilize derivative instruments for speculative transactions or purposes other than mitigation of interest rate risk. The use of derivative financial instruments carries certain risks, including the risk that the counterparties to these contractual arrangements are not able to perform under the agreements. To mitigate this risk, the Company only enters into derivative financial instruments with counterparties that meet the Company's stringent standards for creditworthiness. The Company does not anticipate that any of the counterparties will fail to meet their obligations.

Detail on the Company's interest rate derivatives outstanding is as follows:

(in thousands, except number of instruments data)
Interest Rate Swaps	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Notional amount	$ 295,516	299,375
Number of instruments	15	15

Detail on the fair value of the Company's interest rate derivatives is as follows:

(in thousands)
Interest rate swaps classified as:	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Derivative assets	$ 9,153	6,778
Derivative liabilities	(12)	(1,606)

Derivatives in an asset position are included within Other assets in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets, while those in a liability position are included within Accounts payable and other liabilities.

These derivative financial instruments are all interest rate swaps, which are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges. The Company does not enter into derivative instruments for trading or speculative purposes. As of September 30, 2026, all of the Company's derivatives are designated as cash flow hedges.

The changes in the fair value of derivatives designated and qualifying as cash flow hedges are recorded in Accumulated other comprehensive income ("AOCI") and subsequently reclassified into earnings in the period that the hedged interest payments affect earnings.

The following table represents the effect of the derivative financial instruments on the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements:

Location and Amount of (Loss) Gain Recognized in OCI on Derivative			Location and Amount of Gain Reclassified from AOCI into Net Income			Total amounts presented in the Consolidated Statements of Operations in which the effects of cash flow hedges are recorded

As of September 30, 2026, the Company expects approximately $2.7 million of accumulated other comprehensive income on derivative instruments, including the Company's share from its Investments in real estate partnerships, to be reclassified into earnings during the next 12 months.

7. Leases

Substantially all of the Company's leases are classified as operating leases. The Company's Lease income is comprised of both fixed and variable income. Fixed and in-substance fixed lease income includes stated amounts per lease contracts, which are primarily related to base rent, and in some cases stated amounts for common area maintenance, real estate taxes and insurance (collectively, "Recoverable Costs"). Income for these amounts is recognized on a straight-line basis.

Variable lease income includes the following two main items in the lease contracts:

- Recoveries from tenants represent the tenants' contractual obligations to reimburse the Company for their portion of Recoverable Costs incurred. Generally, the Company's leases provide for the tenants to reimburse the Company based on the tenants' share of the actual costs incurred in proportion to the tenants' share of leased space in the property.
- Percentage rent represents amounts billable to tenants based on the tenants' actual sales volume in excess of levels specified in the lease contract.

The following table provides a disaggregation of lease income recognized as either fixed or variable lease income based on the criteria specified in Topic 842:

	Three months ended September 30,		Nine months ended September 30,
(in thousands)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Operating lease income
Fixed and in-substance fixed lease income	$ 298,629	278,670	$ 882,072	817,014

[1] The amounts include straight-line rent adjustments associated with converting between cash basis and accrual basis of accounting for certain leases.

The following table presents the components of Tenant and other receivables, net of amounts considered uncollectible, in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets:

(in thousands)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Tenant receivables	$ 36,735	29,578
Straight-line rent receivables	197,314	180,871
Other receivables [1]	74,167	63,413
Total tenant and other receivables	$ 308,216	273,862

[1] Other receivables include notes receivable, construction receivables, insurance receivables, and amounts due from real estate partnerships for Management, transaction, and other fee income. On October 1, 2026, the Company received $29.8 million in repayment of notes receivable outstanding as of September 30, 2026.

8. Fair Value Measurements

(a) Disclosure of Fair Value of Financial Instruments

All financial instruments of the Company are reflected in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets at amounts which, in management's estimation, reasonably approximate their fair values, except those instruments listed below:

	September 30, 2026		December 31, 2025
(in thousands)	Carrying Amount	Fair Value	Carrying Amount	Fair Value
Financial assets:
Notes receivable	$ 32,197	32,146	$ 31,987	32,173
Financial liabilities:
Notes payable, net	$ 4,772,056	4,486,577	$ 4,619,301	4,554,628
Unsecured credit facilities [1]	$ 115,000	115,000	$ 120,000	120,000

[1] The carrying amount approximates its fair value due to the variable nature of the terms.

The above fair values represent management's estimate of the amounts that would be received from selling those assets or that would be paid to transfer those liabilities in an orderly transaction between market participants as of September 30, 2026, and December 31, 2025, respectively. These fair value measurements maximize the use of observable inputs which are classified within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy. However, in situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the asset or liability at the measurement date, the fair value measurement reflects the Company's own judgments about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability.

The Company develops its judgments based on the best information available at the measurement date, including expected cash flows, appropriate risk-adjusted discount rates, and available observable and unobservable inputs. Service providers involved in fair value measurements are evaluated for competency and qualifications on an ongoing basis. As considerable judgment is often necessary to estimate the fair value of these financial instruments, the fair values presented above are not necessarily indicative of amounts that will be realized upon disposition of the financial instruments.

(b) Fair Value Measurements

The following financial instruments are measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

Securities

The Company has investments in marketable securities that are included within Other assets on the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets. The marketable securities, which include mutual funds and exchange-traded funds, are measured at fair value using quoted prices in active markets and are classified as Level 1 inputs of the fair value hierarchy.

Changes in the value of securities are recorded within Net investment income in the accompanying Consolidated Statements of Operations, and include the following:

	Three months ended September 30,		Nine months ended September 30,
(in thousands)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Unrealized (Loss) Gain	(369)	2,259	702	(125)

Available-for-Sale Debt Securities

Available-for-sale debt securities consist of investments in corporate bonds and agency mortgage-backed securities. These securities are recorded at fair value, which is determined using either recent trade prices for the identical debt instrument or comparable instruments by issuers of similar industry sector, issuer credit rating, duration and security type. The fair value measurements for these are considered Level 2 inputs of the fair value hierarchy. Unrealized gains and losses on these available-for-sale debt securities are recognized through Other comprehensive income.

Interest Rate Derivatives

The fair value of the Company's interest rate derivatives is determined using widely accepted valuation techniques including discounted cash flow analysis on the expected cash flows of each derivative. This analysis reflects the contractual terms of the derivatives, including the period to maturity, and uses observable market-based inputs, including interest rate curves and implied volatilities. The Company incorporates credit valuation adjustments to appropriately reflect both its own nonperformance risk and the respective counterparty's nonperformance risk in the fair value measurements.

Although the Company has determined that the majority of the inputs used to value its derivatives fall within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, the credit valuation adjustments associated with its derivatives utilize Level 3 inputs, such as estimates of current credit spreads, to evaluate the likelihood of default by the Company and its counterparties. The Company has assessed the significance of the impact of the credit valuation adjustments on the overall valuation of its derivative positions and has determined that the credit valuation adjustments are not significant to the overall valuation of its interest rate swaps. As a result, the Company determined that its interest rate swaps valuation in its entirety is classified in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The following tables summarize the Company's recurring fair value measurements of assets and liabilities by level within the fair value hierarchy:

	Fair Value Measurements as of September 30, 2026

The following table summarizes the Company's nonrecurring fair value measurements of operating properties and related impairment losses by level within the fair value hierarchy:

	Fair Value Measurements as of September 30, 2026
(in thousands)	Balance	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)	Total Losses
Operating property held and used	$ 104,000	—	90,000	14,000	65,135

During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company recorded a $65.1 million provision for impairment on two operating properties classified as held and used. The impairments were triggered by changes in the Company's expected holding periods for these properties, resulting in the Company reassessing their recoverability. One property was remeasured to its estimated fair value of $90.0 million based on third-party offers for the property, which is reflected in the Level 2 classification above, resulting in a $40.4 million provision for impairment. The fair value of the second property was estimated at $14.0 million using a discounted cash flow model, resulting in a $24.7 million provision for impairment. The unlevered discount rate of 12.2% and terminal capitalization rate of 5.75% used in the discounted cash flow model are considered significant unobservable inputs and assumptions in estimating fair value, which is classified as a Level 3 measurement within the fair value hierarchy.

The impairment charges are included in Provision for impairment of real estate in the accompanying Consolidated Statements of Operations.

As of December 31, 2025, there were no real estate assets measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis.

9. Equity and Capital

Preferred Stock of the Parent Company

Terms and conditions of the preferred stock outstanding are summarized as follows:

	Preferred Stock Outstanding as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025

		9,000,000	$ 225,000,000

[1] Issued in connection with the August 18, 2023 merger at terms consistent with their original issuance.

Common Stock of the Parent Company

At the Market ("ATM") Program

Under the Parent Company's ATM Program, as reauthorized by the Board in February 2026, the Parent Company may sell up to $500 million of common stock at prices determined by the market at the time of sale. The timing of sales, if any, will be dependent on market conditions and other factors.

As of September 30, 2026, $500 million of common stock remained available for issuance under this ATM Program.

Stock Repurchase Program

On February 4, 2026, the Board authorized a common stock repurchase program under which the Company may purchase up to $500 million of its outstanding common stock (the "Repurchase Program"). Under the Repurchase Program, the Company may repurchase shares through open market transactions in accordance with applicable federal securities laws, including Rule 10b-18 of the Exchange Act. The Repurchase Program expires on February 28, 2029, unless modified, extended or earlier terminated by the Board in its discretion. Any common stock repurchased, if not retired, will be treated as treasury stock.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company made no repurchases under the Repurchase Program and $500 million remained available under the Repurchase Program.

Preferred Units of the Operating Partnership

The number of Series A Preferred Units and Series B Preferred Units, respectively, issued by the Operating Partnership is equal to the number of Series A Preferred Stock and Series B Preferred Stock, respectively, issued by the Parent Company.

Common Units of the Operating Partnership

Common Units are issued, redeemed, or retired on a one-for-one basis with shares of the Parent Company's common stock, as described above.

Dividends Declared

The following table provides a summary of dividends declared per share by the Parent Company for the periods presented. Distributions declared by the Operating Partnership on its Common Units and Preferred Units were equal, on a per-unit basis, to the per share dividends declared on the corresponding classes of the Parent Company's stock.

	Three months ended September 30,		Nine months ended September 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025

Net income per common share – diluted	$ 0.41	0.58	$ 1.70	1.73

[1] Includes the dilutive impact of unvested restricted stock.

The effect of the assumed exchange of the EOP units and certain other exchangeable units had an anti-dilutive effect upon the calculation of net income attributable to the common shareholders per share. Accordingly, the impact of such assumed exchanges has not been included in the determination of diluted net income per share calculations. Weighted average EOP units outstanding were 3,838,188 and 3,147,659 for the three months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, respectively, and 3,838,188 and 1,785,189 for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, respectively.

Operating Partnership Earnings per Unit

The following summarizes the calculation of basic and diluted earnings per unit ("EPU"):

Weighted average common units outstanding for diluted EPU [1]	187,305	185,494	187,228	183,781
Net income per common unit – basic	$ 0.41	0.58	$ 1.71	1.73
Net income per common unit – diluted	$ 0.41	0.58	$ 1.70	1.73

[1] Includes the dilutive impact of unvested restricted stock.

The effect of the assumed exchange of certain other exchangeable units had an anti-dilutive effect upon the calculation of net income attributable to the common unit holders per unit. Accordingly, the impact of such assumed exchanges has not been included in the determination of diluted net income per unit calculations.

12. Segment Information

The Company's portfolio is located throughout the United States. Management does not distinguish or group its operations on a geographical basis for purposes of allocating resources or capital. The Company's chief operating decision maker ("CODM") evaluates operating and financial performance for each property on an individual property level; therefore, the Company defines an operating segment as its individual properties. The individual properties have been aggregated into one reportable segment based upon their similarities with regard to both the nature and economics of the centers, tenants and operational processes, as well as long-term average financial performance.

The following tables provide information about the Company's reportable segment's revenues, significant expenses, net operating income ("NOI") and the reconciliation of NOI to the Company's consolidated Net income:

13. Commitments and Contingencies

Litigation

The Company is a party to litigation and other disputes that arise in the ordinary course of business. While the outcome of any particular lawsuit or dispute cannot be predicted with certainty, in the opinion of management, the Company's currently pending litigation and disputes are not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position, results of operations, or liquidity. Legal fees are expensed as incurred.

Environmental

The Company is subject to numerous environmental laws and regulations. With respect to applicability to the Company, these pertain primarily to chemicals historically used by certain current and former dry cleaning tenants, the existence of asbestos in older shopping centers, underground petroleum storage tanks and other historic land uses. The Company believes that the ultimate disposition of currently known environmental matters will not have a material effect on its financial position, liquidity, or operations. The Company can give no assurance that existing environmental studies with respect to its shopping centers have revealed all potential environmental contamination; that its estimate of liabilities will not change as more information becomes available; that any previous owner, occupant or tenant did not create any material environmental condition not known to the Company; that the current environmental condition of the shopping centers will not be affected by tenants and occupants, by the condition of nearby properties, or by unrelated third parties; and that changes in applicable environmental laws and regulations or their interpretation will not result in additional environmental liability to the Company.

The Company had accrued liabilities of $16.0 million and $19.2 million for environmental assessment and remediation, which are included in Accounts payable and other liabilities on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Letters of Credit

The Company has the right to issue letters of credit under the Line up to an aggregate amount not to exceed $50.0 million, which reduce the credit availability under the Line. These letters of credit are primarily issued as collateral on behalf of its captive insurance subsidiary and to facilitate the construction of development projects. The Company had $12.5 million and $12.9 million in letters of credit outstanding as of September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements in this document regarding anticipated financial, business, legal or other outcomes including business and market conditions, outlook and other similar statements relating to Regency's future events, developments, or financial or operational performance or results, are "forward-looking statements" made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and other federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements are identified by the use of words such as "may," "will," "could," "should," "would," "expect," "estimate," "believe," "intend," "forecast," "project," "plan," "anticipate," "guidance," and other similar language. However, the absence of these or similar words or expressions does not mean a statement is not forward-looking. While we believe these forward-looking statements are reasonable when made, forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance or events and undue reliance should not be placed on these statements. Although we believe the expectations reflected in any forward-looking statements are based on reasonable assumptions, we can give no assurance these expectations will be attained, and it is possible actual results may differ materially from those indicated by these forward-looking statements due to a variety of risk factors, including, without limitation, risk factors relating to:

- the current economic and geopolitical environments
- pandemics or other health crises
- operating retail-based shopping centers
- real estate investments
- the environment affecting our properties
- corporate matters
- our partnerships and joint ventures
- funding strategies and capital structure
- information management and technology
- taxes and the Parent Company’s qualification as a REIT
- the Company’s stock

As more specifically described in Part I, Item 1A. “Risk Factors" of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 ("2025 Form 10-K") and in Part II, Item 1A. "Risk Factors" in this Report. When considering an investment in our securities, you should carefully read and consider these risks, together with all other information in our 2025 Form 10-K, subsequent Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, and our other filings with and submissions to the SEC. If any of the events described in the risk factors actually occur, our business, financial condition or operating results, as well as the market price of our securities, could be materially adversely affected. Forward-looking statements are only as of the date they are made, and Regency undertakes no duty to update its forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or developments or otherwise, except as and to the extent required by law.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

In addition to the required Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") presentations, we use and report certain non-GAAP financial measures as we believe these measures improve the understanding of our operational results. We believe these non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to our Board of Directors, management and investors regarding certain trends relating to our financial condition and results of operations. Our management uses these non-GAAP financial measures to compare our performance to that of prior periods for trend analyses, purposes of determining management incentive compensation and budgeting, forecasting and planning purposes. We continually evaluate the usefulness, relevance, limitations, and calculation of our reported non-GAAP financial measures to determine how best to provide relevant information to the public, and thus such reported measures could change.

We do not consider non-GAAP financial measures an alternative to financial measures determined in accordance with GAAP, rather they supplement GAAP measures by providing additional information we believe to be useful to our shareholders. The principal limitation of these non-GAAP financial measures is that they may exclude significant expense and income items that are required by GAAP to be recognized in our Consolidated Financial Statements. In addition, they reflect the exercise of management's judgment about which expense and income items are excluded or included in determining these non-GAAP financial measures. In order to compensate for these limitations, reconciliations of the non-GAAP financial measures we use to their most directly comparable GAAP measures are provided. Non-GAAP financial measures should not be relied upon in evaluating the financial condition, results of operations, or future prospects of the Company.

Our non-GAAP financial measures include the following:

- Adjusted Funds From Operations ("AFFO") is an additional performance measure we use that reflects cash available to fund the Company's business needs and distribution to shareholders. AFFO is calculated by adjusting Core Operating Earnings ("COE") for (i) capital expenditures necessary to maintain and lease our portfolio of properties, (ii) debt cost and derivative adjustments and (iii) stock-based compensation.
- Core Operating Earnings is an additional non-GAAP performance measure that adjusts Nareit Funds from Operations ("Nareit FFO") to exclude certain non-cash and other items that impact the comparability of the Company's period-over-period performance. Core Operating Earnings excludes from Nareit FFO: (i) certain income or expenses related to non-comparable events and transactions; (ii) gains or losses from the early extinguishment of debt; (iii) certain non-cash items derived from straight-line rents, above and below market rent amortization, and debt and derivative mark-to-market amortization, and (iv) other non-cash or non-comparable amounts as they occur.
- Nareit Funds from Operations ("Nareit FFO") is a commonly used measure of REIT performance, which Nareit defines as net income, computed in accordance with GAAP, excluding gains on sales and impairments of real estate, net of tax, plus depreciation and amortization, and after adjustments for unconsolidated real estate investment partnerships and joint ventures. We compute Nareit FFO for all periods presented in accordance with Nareit's definition.

  Companies use different depreciable lives and methods, and real estate values historically fluctuate with market conditions. Since Nareit FFO excludes depreciation and amortization and gains on sale and impairments of real estate, it provides a performance measure that, when compared year over year, reflects the impact on operations from trends in percent leased, rental rates, operating costs, acquisition and development activities, and financing costs. This provides a perspective of our financial performance not immediately apparent from net income determined in accordance with GAAP. Thus, Nareit FFO is a supplemental non-GAAP financial measure of our operating performance, which does not represent cash generated from operating activities in accordance with GAAP; and, therefore, should not be considered a substitute measure of cash flows from operations.
- Net Operating Income ("NOI") is the sum of base rent, percentage rent, termination fee income, tenant recoveries, other lease income, and other property income, less operating and maintenance expenses, real estate taxes, ground rent, termination expense, and uncollectible lease income. NOI excludes straight-line rental income and expense, above and below market rent and ground rent amortization, tenant lease inducement amortization, and other fees.

  Management believes that NOI is a useful measure for investors because it provides insight into the core operations and performance of our properties, independent of the capital structure, financing activities, and non-operating factors. By focusing on property-level performance, NOI allows investors to compare the performance of our real estate assets across periods and with those of other REIT peers in the industry, facilitating a clearer understanding of trends in occupancy, rental income, and operating expense management. In addition to its relevance for investors, management uses NOI as a key performance metric in making operational and strategic decisions. NOI is used to evaluate income generated from shopping centers (i.e., return on assets) and to guide decisions on capital investments. These decisions may include acquisitions, redevelopments, and investments in capital improvements.
- Pro-rata information includes 100% of our consolidated properties plus our economic share (based on our ownership interest) in our unconsolidated real estate investment partnerships.

  We provide Pro-rata financial information because we believe it assists investors and analysts in estimating our economic interest in our consolidated and unconsolidated real estate investment partnerships, when read in conjunction with our reported results under GAAP. We believe presenting our Pro-rata share of assets, liabilities, operating results, and other metrics, along with certain other non-GAAP financial measures, makes comparisons of our operating results to those of other REITs more meaningful. The Pro-rata information provided is not, nor is it intended to be, presented in accordance with GAAP. The Pro-rata supplemental details of assets and liabilities and supplemental details of operations reflect our proportionate economic ownership of the assets, liabilities, and operating results of the properties in our portfolio.

  The Pro-rata information is prepared on a basis consistent with the comparable consolidated amounts and is intended to more accurately reflect our proportionate economic interest in the assets, liabilities, and operating results of properties in our portfolio. We do not control the unconsolidated real estate investment partnerships, and the Pro-rata presentations of the assets and liabilities, and revenues and expenses do not represent our legal claim to such items. The partners are entitled to profit or loss allocations and distributions of cash flows according to the operating agreements, which generally provide for such allocations according to their invested capital. Our share of invested capital establishes the ownership interests we use to prepare our Pro-rata share.

The presentation of Pro-rata information has limitations which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- The amounts shown on the individual line items were derived by applying our overall economic ownership interest percentage determined when applying the equity method of accounting and do not necessarily represent our legal claim to the assets and liabilities, or the revenues and expenses; and
- Other companies in our industry may calculate their Pro-rata interest differently, limiting the comparability of Pro-rata information.

Because of these limitations, the Pro-rata financial information should not be considered independently or as a substitute for our financial statements as reported under GAAP. We compensate for these limitations by relying primarily on our GAAP financial statements, using the Pro-rata information as a supplement.

- Same Property NOI is a key non-GAAP financial measure commonly used by REITs to evaluate operating performance. It is calculated on a Pro-rata ownership basis for properties owned and operated for the entirety of both the current and prior comparable reporting periods. Same property NOI includes revenues and operating expenses associated with these properties but excludes items that are not indicative of ongoing operating performance. These include, without limitation, termination fees, as well as corporate-level expenses, financing costs, and other non-operating items.

  Management believes this measure provides investors with a useful and consistent comparison of the Company's operating performance and trends. Management uses Same Property NOI as a supplemental measure to assess property-level performance and to compare the performance of its stabilized property portfolio across reporting periods. This measure allows investors to evaluate trends in revenue and expense growth for properties that have been consistently operated during the periods.

Other Defined Terms

The following terms, as defined, are commonly used by management and the investing public to understand, and evaluate our operational results, and are included in this document:

- Anchor Space is space equal to or greater than 10,000 square feet in a Retail Operating Property.
- Development Completion is a Property in Development that is deemed complete upon the earlier of: (i) 90% of total estimated net development costs have been incurred and percent leased equals or exceeds 95%, or (ii) the property features at least two years of anchor operations. Once deemed complete, the property is termed a Retail Operating Property.
- A Non-Same Property is any property, during either calendar year period being compared, that was acquired, sold, a Property in Development, a Development Completion, or a property under, or being positioned for, significant redevelopment that distorts comparability between periods. Non-retail properties and corporate activities, including the captive insurance program, are part of Non-Same Property.
- Property In Development includes properties in various stages of ground-up development.
- Property In Redevelopment includes Retail Operating Properties under redevelopment or being positioned for redevelopment. Unless otherwise indicated, a Property in Redevelopment is included in the Same Property pool.
- Redevelopment Completion is a Property in Redevelopment that is deemed complete upon the earlier of: (i) 90% of total estimated project costs have been incurred and percent leased equals or exceeds 95% for the Company owned gross leasable area ("GLA") related to the project, or (ii) the property features at least two years of anchor operations, if applicable.
- Retail Operating Property is any retail property not termed a Property in Development. A retail property is any property where the majority of the income is generated from retail uses.
- Same Property is a Retail Operating Property that was owned and operated for the entirety of both calendar year periods being compared. This term excludes Properties in Development, prior year Development Completions, and Non-Same Properties. Properties in Redevelopment are included unless otherwise indicated.
- Shop Space is space under 10,000 square feet in a Retail Operating Property.

Overview of Our Strategy

Regency Centers Corporation began operations as a publicly-traded REIT in 1993. All of our operating, investing, and financing activities are performed through our Operating Partnership, Regency Centers, L.P. and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, and through our real estate partnerships. As of September 30, 2026, the Parent Company owned approximately 97.9% of the outstanding Common Units and 100% of the Preferred Units of the Operating Partnership.

We are a preeminent national owner, operator, and developer of neighborhood and community shopping centers predominantly located in suburban trade areas with compelling demographics. As of September 30, 2026, we had full or partial ownership interests in 486 retail properties. Our properties are high-quality neighborhood and community shopping centers primarily anchored by market leading grocers and principally located in suburban markets within the country's most desirable metro areas, and contain approximately 59.2 million square feet ("SF") of GLA. Our mission is to create thriving environments for retailers and service providers to connect with surrounding neighborhoods and communities. Our vision is to elevate quality of life as an integral thread in the fabric of our communities. Our portfolio includes thriving properties merchandised with highly productive grocers, restaurants, service providers, and best-in-class retailers that connect with their neighborhoods, communities, and customers.

Our values:

- We are our people: Our people are our greatest asset, and we believe that our highly skilled and talented team makes us better.
- We do what is right: We act with unwavering standards of honesty and integrity.
- We connect with our communities: We promote philanthropic ideas and strive for the betterment of our neighborhoods by giving our time and financial support.
- We are responsible: Our duty is to balance purpose and profit, being good stewards of capital and the environment for the benefit of all our stakeholders.
- We strive for excellence: When we are passionate about what we do, it is reflected in our performance.
- We are better together: When we listen to each other and our customers, we will succeed together.

Our goals are to:

- Own and manage a portfolio of high-quality neighborhood and community shopping centers anchored primarily by market leading grocers and principally located in suburban trade areas in the most desirable metro areas in the United States. We believe that this strategy will result in highly desirable and attractive centers with best-in-class retailers. These centers should command higher rental and occupancy rates resulting in excellent prospects to grow NOI;
- Create shareholder value by increasing earnings and dividends per share that generate total returns at or near the top of our shopping center peers;
- Maintain an industry leading, disciplined development and redevelopment platform to create exceptional retail centers that deliver favorable returns; and
- Support our business activities with a conservative capital structure, including a strong balance sheet with sufficient liquidity to meet our capital needs together with a carefully constructed debt maturity profile.

Executing on our Strategy

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, Net income attributable to common shareholders was $312.6 million, compared to $314.7 million in the prior-year period.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026:

- Our Same property NOI grew 4.4%, as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2025, primarily attributable to improvements in base rent and recoveries from increases in year over year occupancy rates, contractual rent steps in existing leases, and positive rent spreads on comparable new and renewal leases.
- We executed 1,378 new and renewal leasing transactions representing 5.5 million Pro-rata SF with positive rent spreads of 11.4% during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to 1,418 leasing transactions representing 5.3 million Pro-rata SF with positive rent spreads of 10.4% during the nine months ended September 30, 2025. Rent spreads are calculated on all executed leasing transactions for comparable Retail Operating Property spaces, including spaces vacant greater than 12 months.
- At September 30, 2026, December 31, 2025, and September 30, 2025, our total property portfolio was 96.6%, 96.1%, and 96.0% leased, respectively. At September 30, 2026, December 31, 2025, and September 30, 2025 our same property portfolio was 97.0%, 96.5%, and 96.4% leased, respectively.

We continued our development and redevelopment of high-quality shopping centers:

- Development and redevelopment projects completed during the nine months ended September 30, 2026 represented $158.2 million of estimated net project costs, with an average stabilized yield of 7.8%. A stabilized yield for development and redevelopment projects represents the incremental NOI (estimated stabilized NOI less NOI prior to project commencement) divided by the total project costs.
- Estimated Pro-rata project costs of our current in process development and redevelopment projects totaled $681.9 million at September 30, 2026, compared to $597.4 million at December 31, 2025.

We maintained liquidity and financial flexibility to cost effectively fund investment opportunities and debt maturities:

- We maintain a credit rating of A- with a stable outlook from S&P Global Ratings, and an A3 rating with a stable outlook from Moody's Investors Service.
- On February 18, 2026, the Company issued $450 million aggregate principal amount of senior unsecured notes due 2033 (the “2026 Notes”). The 2026 Notes were issued at 99.376% of par and bear interest at a rate of 4.50% per annum. The net proceeds were used to reduce the outstanding balance on the Line, and the remaining proceeds were used for repayment of $200 million of unsecured private placement notes at maturity, as well as for general corporate purposes.
- As of September 30, 2026, we had $862.8 million of loans maturing during the next 12 months, including Regency's share of maturities within our unconsolidated real estate partnerships which we intend to refinance or pay-off as they mature.
- At September 30, 2026, we had $1.37 billion available on the Line, which expires on March 23, 2028 unless we exercise the available options to extend the expiration for the first of two additional consecutive six-month periods, in which case the term will be extended in accordance with any such option exercise.

Economic Conditions

Refer to the Estimates, Risks and Uncertainties section in Note 1 — Organization and Significant Accounting Policies, as these risks and uncertainties could have a material impact on future results of operations and trends.

Property Portfolio

The following table summarizes general information related to the consolidated properties in our portfolio:

(GLA in thousands)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Number of Properties	395	391
GLA	46,669	46,102
% Leased – Operating and Development	96.5%	96.0%
% Leased – Operating	96.9%	96.6%
Weighted average annual effective rent per square foot ("PSF"), net of tenant concessions.	$26.99	$26.55

The following table summarizes general information related to the unconsolidated properties owned in real estate investment partnerships in our portfolio:

(GLA in thousands)	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Number of Properties	91	90
GLA	12,563	12,275
% Leased – Operating and Development	96.7%	96.8%
% Leased – Operating	96.7%	96.8%
Weighted average annual effective rent PSF, net of tenant concessions	$26.07	$25.87

The following table summarizes Pro-rata occupancy rates of our combined consolidated and unconsolidated shopping center portfolio:

	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Percent Leased – All Properties	96.6%	96.3%
Anchor Space (spaces ≥ 10,000 SF)	98.5%	98.4%
Shop Space (spaces < 10,000 SF)	93.5%	93.0%

The following table summarizes leasing activity, including our Pro-rata share of activity within the portfolio of our real estate partnerships (totals as a weighted average PSF):

	Nine months ended September 30, 2026
	Leasing Transactions	SF (in thousands)	Base Rent PSF	Tenant Allowance and Landlord Work PSF	Leasing Commissions PSF
Anchor Space Leases
New	26	578	$ 24.72	$ 50.80	$ 8.00

Total Leases	1,418	5,342	$ 27.40	$ 11.05	$ 3.34

The weighted-average base rent PSF on Shop Space leases signed during the nine months ended September 30, 2026 is $42.24 PSF, which is higher than the weighted average annual base rent PSF of all Shop Space leases due to expire during the next 12 months of $39.24 PSF. New and renewal rent spreads, compared to prior rents on these same spaces leased, were positive at 11.4% for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, compared to 10.4% for the nine months ended September 30, 2025.

Diversification and Concentration of Tenant Risk

We seek to reduce our risk by limiting dependence on any single property, market, or tenant. Based on percentage of annualized base rent, the following table summarizes our most significant tenants, of which four of the top five are grocers:

	September 30, 2026
Tenant	Number of Stores	Percentage of Company-owned GLA [1]	Percentage of Annual Base Rent [1]
Publix	67	5.7%	2.8%
Amazon/Whole Foods	42	2.8%	2.7%
TJX Companies, Inc.	77	3.6%	2.7%
Albertsons Companies, Inc.	51	4.1%	2.7%
Kroger Co.	52	6.0%	2.5%

[1] Includes Regency's Pro-rata share of unconsolidated properties and excludes those owned by anchors.

Bankruptcies and Credit Concerns

Our management team devotes significant time to researching and monitoring consumer preferences and trends, customer shopping behaviors, changes in delivery methods, shifts to e-commerce, and changing demographics in order to anticipate the challenges and opportunities impacting our industry. We seek to mitigate potentially adverse impacts through maintaining a high quality portfolio, diversifying our geographic and tenant mix, replacing less successful tenants with stronger operators, anchoring our centers with market leading grocery stores that drive customer traffic, and investing in suburban trade areas with compelling demographic populations benefiting from high levels of disposable income.

The success of the Company's tenants in operating their businesses and their corresponding ability to pay rent may be influenced by evolving political, economic, trade, tax and immigration policies and macroeconomic uncertainty, and the success of the Company's tenants, in the aggregate, is important to the operating and financial success of the Company. These include, without limitation, changes in trade and tariff policies (as well as potential trade disputes and retaliatory actions by other countries), entry into and termination of treaties and trade agreements, and economic sanctions, as well as global economic conflicts. Additionally, geopolitical and macroeconomic challenges, including the war involving Russia and Ukraine, and conflicts in the Middle East involving the U.S. and its allies, Iran and its allies, and Israel, could adversely impact aspects of the U.S. economy and, therefore, consumer confidence and spending.

Although base rent is derived from long-term lease contracts, tenants that file for bankruptcy generally have the legal right to reject any or all of their leases and close related stores. Any unsecured claim we hold against a bankrupt tenant for unpaid rent might be paid only to the extent that funds are available and only in the same percentage as is paid to all other holders of unsecured claims. As a result, in a tenant bankruptcy situation it is likely that we would recover substantially less than the full value of any unsecured claims we hold. Additionally, we may incur significant expense to adjudicate our claim and significant downtime to re-lease the vacated space. In the event that a tenant with a significant number of leases in our shopping centers files for bankruptcy and rejects its leases, we could experience a significant reduction in our revenues. At September 30, 2026, the tenants who are currently in bankruptcy and continue to occupy space in our shopping centers represent an aggregate of 0.3% of our Pro-rata annual base rent.

Results of Operations

Comparison of the three months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025:

Changes in revenues are summarized in the following table:

(in thousands)	Three months ended September 30, 2026	2025	Change
Lease income
Base rent	$ 283,437	265,289	18,148
Recoveries from tenants	102,679	92,406	10,273
Percentage rent	2,130	1,950	180
Uncollectible lease income	(192)	53	(245)
Other lease income	8,362	5,536	2,826
Straight-line rent	6,685	6,743	(58)
Above/below market rent amortization, net	5,570	5,784	(214)
Total lease income	$ 408,671	377,761	30,910
Other property income	3,247	3,089	158
Management, transaction, and other fees	7,140	6,720	420
Total revenues	$ 419,058	387,570	31,488

Total lease income increased by $30.9 million primarily due to the following:

- $18.1 million increase in Base rent, primarily driven by the following:
  - $12.6 million net increase from same properties, including:
    - $6.9 million net increase due to increases from occupancy, contractual rent steps in existing leases, and positive rental spreads on new and renewal leases;
    - $3.5 million increase due to redevelopment projects commencing operations; and
    - $2.2 million increase related to the acquisitions of remaining ownership interests, resulting in consolidation of properties previously held in unconsolidated real estate partnerships;

- $1.9 million increase from acquisitions of operating properties in 2026 as compared to 2025; and
- $4.5 million increase from rent commencements at development properties; partially offset by
- $0.9 million decrease due to dispositions of operating properties.

- $10.3 million increase from contractual Recoveries from tenants, which represent their proportionate share of operating, maintenance, insurance, and real estate tax expenses incurred to operate our shopping centers. Recoveries from tenants increased, mainly from the following:
  - $7.5 million increase primarily driven by higher recoverable operating expenses and higher recovery rates resulting from increased occupancy in the current year; and
  - $2.2 million increase driven by the acquisition of operating properties in 2026 as compared to 2025;
  - $1.2 million increase from rent commencements at development properties; partially offset by
  - $0.6 million decrease due to dispositions of operating properties.
- $2.8 million increase in Other lease income primarily attributable to increase in termination fees.

Changes in our operating expenses are summarized in the following table:

	Three months ended September 30,
(in thousands)	2026	2025	Change
Depreciation and amortization	$ 107,708	102,799	4,909
Property operating expense	69,802	65,471	4,331
Real estate taxes	52,099	47,080	5,019
General and administrative	25,173	27,060	(1,887)
Other operating expenses	2,126	1,770	356
Total operating expenses	$ 256,908	244,180	12,728

Depreciation and amortization increased by $4.9 million, mainly due to the following:

- $3.2 million increase from operating properties acquired and development properties placed in service during the period; and
- $1.7 million increase from same properties primarily attributable to redevelopment projects placed in service.

Property operating expense increased by $4.3 million, mainly due to the following:

- $2.8 million increase from same properties primarily due to higher recoverable common area maintenance and other tenant-related expenses; and
- $2.1 million increase primarily from operating property acquisitions and development properties; partially offset by
- $0.6 million decrease due to dispositions of operating properties.

Real estate taxes increased by $5.0 million, mainly due to the following:

- $3.0 million increase primarily from increases in real estate tax assessments across the same property portfolio; and
- $2.0 million increase from operating property acquisitions and development properties.

Changes in other expense, net are summarized in the following table:

	Three months ended September 30,
(in thousands)	2026	2025	Change
Interest expense, net
Interest on notes payable	$ 55,545	55,064	481
Interest on unsecured credit facilities	1,806	1,022	784
Capitalized interest	(2,526)	(2,768)	242
Hedge expense	48	226	(178)
Interest income	(1,388)	(2,221)	833
Interest expense, net	$ 53,485	51,323	2,162
Provision for impairment of real estate	65,135	3,374	61,761
Gain on sale of real estate, net of tax	(23,814)	(6,198)	(17,616)
Net investment income	(609)	(2,602)	1,993
Total other expense, net	$ 94,197	45,897	48,300

Interest expense, net, increased by $2.2 million primarily due to the following:

- $0.5 million increase in Interest on notes payable, mainly due to the following:
  - $5.1 million increase related to the issuance of the 2026 Notes; partially offset by
  - $2.4 million decrease related to the repayment of $250.0 million of unsecured notes in 2025;
  - $1.5 million decrease related to the repayment of $200.0 million of unsecured private placement notes in 2026; and
  - $0.7 million decrease primarily due to lower mortgage interest expense and changes in debt premium and debt issuance cost amortization.
- $0.8 million increase in Interest on unsecured credit facilities primarily due to carrying a higher weighted average outstanding balance under our Line in 2026 compared to 2025; and
- $0.8 million increase due to lower Interest income primarily due to maintaining lower levels of short term investments.

During the three months ended September 30, 2026, we recognized $65.1 million of impairment charges related to two operating properties resulting from changes in their expected holding periods, which triggered reassessments of their recoverability. During the three months ended September 30, 2025, we recognized $3.4 million of impairment charges related to the dispositions of three operating properties.

During the three months ended September 30, 2026, we recognized gain on sale of real estate, net of tax of $23.8 million primarily from additional proceeds received related to a prior outparcel sale and one additional outparcel sale. During the three months ended September 30, 2025, we recognized gain on sale of real estate, net of tax of $6.2 million primarily from the sale of an operating property and an outparcel.

The following represents the remaining components that comprise Net income attributable to common shareholders and unit holders:

	Three months ended September 30,

Lease income increased by $96.1 million primarily due to the following:

- $60.7 million increase in Base rent, mainly driven by the following:
    - $36.5 million increase resulting from same properties, including:
        - $17.9 million due to increases from occupancy, contractual rent steps in existing leases, and positive rental spreads on new and renewal leases;
        - $11.3 million due to redevelopment projects that commenced operations; and
        - $7.3 million related to the acquisitions of the remaining ownership interests, resulting in consolidation of properties previously held in unconsolidated real estate partnerships;
    - $14.9 million increase from operating property acquisitions, reflecting a full nine months of revenue from properties acquired in 2025 and additional acquisitions in 2026; and
    - $12.7 million increase from rent commencements at development properties; partially offset by
    - $3.4 million decrease due to dispositions of operating properties.
- $34.1 million increase from contractual Recoveries from tenants, which represent their proportionate share of the operating, maintenance, insurance, and real estate tax expenses incurred to operate our shopping centers. Recoveries from tenants increased, mainly from the following:
    - $25.7 million increase primarily driven by higher recoverable operating expenses and higher recovery rates resulting from increased occupancy in the current year; and
    - $10.3 million increase driven by the acquisition of operating properties in 2026 as compared to 2025, and rent commencements at development properties; partially offset by
    - $1.9 million decrease due to disposition of operating properties.
- $5.5 million increase in Other lease income mainly due to an increase in lease assignment fees, electric vehicle charging station income and lease termination fee income.

Changes in our operating expenses are summarized in the following table:

	Nine months ended September 30,
(in thousands)	2026	2025	Change
Depreciation and amortization	$ 322,933	299,108	23,825
Property operating expense	214,048	194,689	19,359

Other operating expenses	5,164	5,402	(238)
Total operating expenses	$ 773,985	714,279	59,706

Depreciation and amortization increased by $23.8 million mainly due to the following:

- $16.0 million increase from operating properties acquired and development properties placed in service during the period; and
- $7.8 million increase from same properties, including:
    - $9.8 million net increase from redevelopment activities;
    - $4.7 million increase related to acquisitions of remaining ownership interests, resulting in the consolidation of properties previously held in unconsolidated real estate partnerships; and
    - $4.0 million increase in other depreciation, partially offset by:
    - $6.2 million net decrease due to acquired lease intangibles becoming fully amortized; and
    - $4.5 million net decrease due to higher early tenant move-outs in the prior period.

Property operating expense increased by $19.4 million, mainly due to the following:

- $13.8 million increase from same properties primarily reflecting higher recoverable common area maintenance and other tenant-related operating costs; and
- $7.7 million increase in acquisitions of operating properties and development properties placed in service; partially offset by
- $2.1 million decrease due to disposition of operating properties.

Real estate taxes increased by $12.6 million, mainly due to the following:

- $8.6 million increase from higher real estate tax assessments across the same property portfolio;
- $5.4 million increase from acquisitions of operating properties and development properties placed in service; partially offset by
- $1.4 million decrease due to disposition of operating properties.

General and administrative costs increased by $4.2 million mainly due to the following:

- $2.4 million increase in compensation costs driven by higher performance-based incentive compensation and partially offset by increased development related capitalization; and
- $1.3 million increase due to changes in the fair value of participant obligations within the deferred compensation plan, which were attributable to changes in the fair values of those investments recognized in Net investment income.

Changes in Other expense, net are summarized in the following table:

Total other expense, net	$ 189,086	145,610	43,476

Interest expense, net increased by $9.6 million primarily due to the following:

- $12.1 million increase in Interest on notes payable, mainly due to the following:
  - $12.2 million increase related to the issuance of the 2026 Notes;
  - $7.1 million increase related to the issuance of $400.0 million of unsecured notes in 2025; and
  - $1.9 million increase related to mortgage interest expense and debt premium and issuance cost amortization; partially offset by
  - $7.3 million decrease related to the repayment of $250.0 million of unsecured notes in 2025; and
  - $1.8 million decrease related to the repayment of $200.0 million of unsecured private placement notes in 2026.
- $1.5 million decrease in Interest on unsecured credit facilities primarily due to carrying a lower weighted average outstanding balance and a lower weighted average interest rate under our Line in 2026 compared to 2025.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, we recognized $65.1 million of impairment charges related to two operating properties resulting from changes in their expected holding periods, which triggered reassessments of their recoverability. During the nine months ended September 30, 2025 we recognized $4.6 million of impairment charges related to the dispositions of five operating properties.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, we recognized gain on sale of real estate, net of tax of $31.3 million primarily from the sale of one operating property and four outparcels. During the nine months ended September 30, 2025, we recognized gains on sale of real estate, net of tax of $6.0 million mainly from sales of an operating property and an outparcel.

Net investment income increased by $1.4 million, primarily attributable to a $1.3 million increase in investment returns associated with the non-qualified deferred compensation plan.

Equity in income of investments in real estate partnerships increased by $9.1 million mainly due to gains on partial real estate sales recognized at unconsolidated real estate partnerships during the current period.

The following represents the remaining components that comprise Net income attributable to common shareholders and unit holders:

Net income attributable to common unit holders	$ 319,166	317,634	1,532

Income attributable to noncontrolling interests and Net income attributable to exchangeable operating partnership units increased by $3.8 million and $3.7 million, respectively, primarily due to the issuance of 2.8 million exchangeable operating partnership units to unrelated third-party sellers in connection with the acquisition of five properties in July 2025.

Supplemental Earnings Information on Non-GAAP Financial Measures

We use certain non-GAAP financial measures, in addition to certain performance metrics determined under GAAP, as we believe these measures improve the understanding of the operating results. We believe these non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to our Board of Directors, management and investors regarding certain trends relating to our financial condition and results of operations. Our management uses these non-GAAP measures to compare our performance to that of prior periods for trend analyses, purposes of determining management incentive compensation and budgeting, forecasting and planning purposes. We provide Pro-rata financial information because we believe it assists investors and analysts in estimating our economic interest in our consolidated and unconsolidated real estate partnerships, when read in conjunction with our reported results under GAAP. We believe presenting our Pro-rata share of operating results, assets and liabilities, along with other non-GAAP financial measures, may assist in comparing our operating results, assets and liabilities to other REITs. We continually evaluate the usefulness, relevance, limitations, and calculation of our reported non-GAAP measures to determine how best to provide relevant information to the public, and thus such reported non-GAAP financial measures could change. See "Non-GAAP Financial Measures" at the beginning of this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

We do not consider non-GAAP financial measures as an alternative to financial measures determined in accordance with GAAP, rather they supplement GAAP measures by providing additional information we believe to be useful to our shareholders. The principal limitation of these non-GAAP financial measures is that they may exclude significant expense and income items that are required by GAAP to be recognized in our Consolidated Financial Statements. In addition, they reflect the exercise of management's judgment about which expense and income items are excluded or included in determining these non-GAAP financial measures. In order to compensate for these limitations, reconciliations of the non-GAAP financial measures we use to their most directly comparable GAAP measures are provided, including as set forth below. Non-GAAP financial measures should not be relied upon in evaluating the financial condition, results of operations, or future prospects.

Same property NOI changed from the following major components:

Total real estate revenue increased by $18.6 million and $58.5 million, on a net basis, during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, as follows:

- Base rent increased by $11.0 million and $31.1 million during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, due to contractual rent steps in existing leases, positive rental spreads on new and renewal leases, and increases in occupancy, as well as redevelopment projects completing and operating.
- Recoveries from tenants increased by $6.6 million and $25.1 million during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, due to higher recoverable expenses and increased occupancy and recovery rates.
- Other lease income increased by $3.1 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, due to an increase in lease assignment fees, electric vehicle charging station income and other lease-related income.

Total real estate operating expenses increased by $4.7 million and $22.0 million, on a net basis, during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, as follows:

- Operating and maintenance increased by $2.8 million and $14.0 million during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026, respectively, primarily due to increases in common area maintenance and other tenant-recoverable costs.
- Real estate taxes increased by $2.3 million and $8.3 million during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026, primarily due to an increase in real estate assessments across the portfolio.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

General

We use cash flows generated from operating, investing, and financing activities to strengthen our balance sheet, finance our development and redevelopment projects, fund our investment activities, and maintain financial flexibility. A significant portion of our cash flows from operations is distributed to our common shareholders in the form of dividends in order to maintain our status as a REIT.

Our Parent Company has no capital commitments other than its guarantees of the commitments of our Operating Partnership. The Parent Company will from time to time access the capital markets for the purpose of issuing new equity, and will simultaneously contribute all of the offering proceeds to the Operating Partnership in exchange for additional partnership units.

We continually assess our available liquidity and our expected cash requirements, including monitoring our tenant rent collections. We have access to and draw on multiple financing sources to fund our operations and our long-term capital needs, including the requirements of our in process and planned developments, redevelopments, other capital expenditures, and the repayment of debt. We expect to meet these needs by using a combination of the following: cash flows from operations after funding our common stock and preferred stock dividends, borrowings from our Line, proceeds from sales of real estate (subject to certain REIT tax distribution rules), mortgage loan and unsecured bank financing, distributions received from our real estate partnerships, and when the capital markets are favorable, proceeds from the sale of equity securities or the issuance of new unsecured debt. We continually evaluate alternative financing options, and we believe we can obtain new financing on reasonable terms, although likely at higher interest rates than that of our debt currently outstanding, due to the current interest rate environment.

We are actively monitoring market conditions and evaluating strategies to mitigate interest rate risk. These strategies may include the use of interest rate swaps, caps, or forward-starting hedges to lock in rates on future debt issuances or refinancings. We are also prioritizing refinancing of maturing debt with long-duration fixed-rate debt where appropriate, to minimize future exposure to rate volatility.

As of September 30, 2026, we had $862.8 million of loans maturing during the next 12 months, including Regency's share of maturities within our unconsolidated real estate partnerships, which we intend to refinance or pay off as they mature. We actively monitor the capital markets and maintain flexibility to access them opportunistically, while proactively managing our debt maturity profile to support a strong balance sheet. We currently expect to address these maturing obligations through a combination of cash flows from operations, refinancing at maturity, available liquidity under our Line, or proceeds from potential property sales.

Based upon our available cash balance, sources of capital, our current credit ratings, and the number of high quality, unencumbered properties we own, we believe our available capital resources are sufficient to meet our expected capital needs for the next year, although, in the longer term, we can provide no assurances.

In addition to our $134.9 million of unrestricted cash, we have the following additional sources of capital available:

(in thousands)		September 30, 2026
ATM program
Original offering amount	$	500,000
Available capacity	$	500,000
Line of credit
Total commitment amount	$	1,500,000
Available capacity [1]	$	1,372,940
Maturity [2]		March 23, 2028

[1] Available capacity is net of outstanding borrowings and letters of credit issued under the Line.

[2] The Company has the option to extend the maturity for two additional six-month periods beyond the stated maturity in the table.

The declaration of dividends is determined quarterly by, and in the discretion of, our Board of Directors. While future dividends on shares of our common stock will be determined at the discretion of our Board of Directors, we plan to continue paying an aggregate amount of distributions to our stock and unit holders that, at a minimum, meet the requirements to continue qualifying as a REIT for federal income tax purposes.

We have historically generated sufficient cash flow from operations to fund our dividend distributions. During the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, we generated cash flows from operating activities of $654.2 million and $623.7 million, respectively, and paid $432.9 million and $395.8 million in dividends and distributions to our common and preferred stock and unit holders, in the same respective periods.

We currently have development and redevelopment projects in various stages of planning, design and construction, along with a pipeline of potential projects for future development or redevelopment. After funding the October 2026 dividends for our common and preferred stock and Operating Partnership units, we estimate that we will require capital during the next 12 months of approximately $1.4 billion related to leasing commissions, tenant improvements, in-process developments and redevelopments, capital contributions to our real estate partnerships, and repaying maturing debt. These capital requirements may be impacted by increased costs of construction caused by, without limitation, tariffs and inflation affecting materials, labor, and services from third-party contractors and suppliers. Additionally, current volatility in oil prices can further drive up transportation and operational costs, contributing to overall project expenses. We continue to implement mitigation strategies including, but not limited to, entering into fixed cost construction contracts, pre-ordering materials, and other planning efforts. Further, continued challenges from permitting delays and labor and material shortages may extend the time to completion of these projects.

If we start new developments or redevelopments, commit to property acquisitions, repay debt with cash, declare future dividends, or repurchase shares of our common stock, our cash requirements will increase. If we refinance maturing debt, our cash requirements will decrease.

We endeavor to maintain a high percentage of unencumbered assets which enables us to access the secured and unsecured debt markets cost effectively and to maintain borrowing capacity on the Line. As of September 30, 2026, 88.4% of our consolidated real estate assets were unencumbered.

Our Line and unsecured debt require that we remain in compliance with various customary financial covenants, which are described in the Consolidated Financial Statements included in our 2025 Form 10-K. We were in compliance with these covenants at September 30, 2026, and expect to remain in compliance.

Significant changes in investing activities include:

- We paid $58.4 million in 2026 to purchase two operating properties, one property for redevelopment and two operating outparcels. We paid $103.5 million in 2025 to purchase nine operating properties and one operating outparcel. Three of the operating properties were previously held in unconsolidated real estate investment partnerships in which we held ownership interests ranging from 50.0%-66.7%.
- During 2026, we invested $10.4 million more on real estate development and capital improvements than the comparable prior year period, as further detailed in a table below.
- We sold one operating property and four land parcels in 2026 for net proceeds of $40.0 million compared to six operating properties and one land parcel in 2025 for net proceeds of $51.1 million.

- We received property insurance claim proceeds of $3.4 million in 2026.
- Investments in real estate partnerships:
    - In 2026, we invested $39.0 million, including $21.8 million to fund our share of debt repayments, $13.6 million to fund our share of two property acquisitions, and $3.6 million to fund our share of development and redevelopment activities.
    - In 2025, we invested $12.4 million, including $5.1 million to fund our share of debt repayments, $3.2 million to fund our share of a property acquisition, and $4.1 million to fund our share of development and redevelopment activities.
- Return of capital from our unconsolidated investments in real estate partnerships includes sales or financing proceeds.
    - During 2026, we received $43.9 million from our share of proceeds from debt financing activities, a property disposition, and outparcel sales.
    - During 2025, we received $12.2 million from our share of proceeds from outparcel sales and debt financing activities.
- Purchase of investment securities and proceeds from sale of investment securities pertaining to investment activities held in our captive insurance company and our deferred compensation plan, as well as:
    - During 2025, we invested approximately $90 million in commercial time deposits with proceeds received from the May 2025 public offering of senior unsecured notes. These commercial time deposits were subsequently settled at maturity during the third and fourth quarters of 2025.

We plan to continue developing and redeveloping shopping centers for long-term investment. During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, we deployed capital of $317.7 million for the development, redevelopment, and capital improvement of our real estate properties, comprised of the following:

	Nine months ended September 30,
(in thousands)	2026	2025	Change
Capital expenditures:
Land acquisitions - Development	14,884	9,534	5,350
Acquisition of land & improvements - Redevelopment	17,754	3,607	14,147
Building and tenant improvements	92,958	77,313	15,645

Capitalized direct compensation	16,282	14,789	1,493
Real estate development and capital improvements	$ 317,730	307,282	10,448

- We acquired three properties for development and one property for redevelopment in 2026, compared to two land parcels for development, and one for redevelopment in 2025.
- Building and tenant improvements increased $15.6 million in 2026, primarily related to the timing and volume of capital projects.
- Redevelopment costs are lower than the prior year, reflecting fewer redevelopment projects in process and lower estimated net project costs remaining compared to the same period last year. We intend to continuously improve our portfolio of shopping centers through redevelopment which can include adjacent land acquisition, existing building expansions, facade renovations, new out-parcel building construction, and redevelopments related to tenant improvement costs. The size and magnitude of each redevelopment project varies with each redevelopment plan. The timing and duration of these projects could also result in volatility in NOI. See the tables below for more details about our redevelopment projects.
- Development costs are lower in 2026 due to the progress towards completion of our development projects in process. See the tables below for more details about our development projects.

The following table summarizes our development projects in-process and completed:

Significant changes in financing activities during the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, include the following:

- During 2025, we received $49.2 million in net proceeds upon settling forward sales agreements under our ATM program.
- The taxes withheld in conjunction with vesting of equity award plans to satisfy employee tax withholding requirements totaled $9.1 million and $6.8 million during 2026 and 2025, respectively.
- During 2025, we paid $2.0 million for the redemption of exchangeable operating partnership units.
- During 2026 and 2025, we received $5.1 million and $10.7 million, respectively, in contributions from noncontrolling interests, representing the limited partners' respective shares of development funding.
- During 2026, we distributed $10.6 million to limited partners, including payments to partially redeem non-controlling interests in two real estate partnerships. During 2025, we distributed $37.2 million to limited partners, including payments to redeem non-controlling interest in two real estate partnerships.
- We paid $37.1 million more in dividends and exchangeable operating partnership unit distributions during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, including $28.0 million attributable to the higher dividend rate per share and $9.1 million attributable to the increase in common shares and operating partnership units outstanding.
- We had the following debt related activity during 2026:
    - We repaid $200.0 million in unsecured private placement notes,
    - We received $447.2 million in proceeds from issuing unsecured public debt,
    - We repaid a net $5.0 million on our Line,
    - We paid $97.7 million for debt repayments, including:
        - $88.0 million for repaying one mortgage loan at maturity, and
        - $9.7 million in principal mortgage payments
    - We paid $4.3 million in loan costs relating to the unsecured public debt offering.
- We had the following debt related activity during 2025:
    - We received $397.1 million in proceeds from issuing unsecured public debt,
    - We repaid a net $35.0 million on our Line,
    - We received $10.0 million in proceeds from a mortgage refinancing,

- We paid $62.1 million for debt repayments, including:
  - $54.1 million for repaying five mortgage loans at maturity, and
  - $8.0 million in principal mortgage payments.
- We paid $3.8 million in loan costs relating to the unsecured public debt offering.

[1] Reflects scheduled principal payments and maturities for the remainder of the year.

At September 30, 2026, our investments in unconsolidated real estate partnerships had notes payable of $1.6 billion maturing through 2036, of which 94.7% had a weighted average fixed interest rate of 4.2%. The remaining notes payable float with SOFR and had a weighted average variable interest rate of 6.1%, based on rates as of September 30, 2026. These fixed and variable rate notes payable are all non-recourse, and our share was $549.8 million as of September 30, 2026. As notes payable mature, they will be repaid from proceeds from new borrowings and/or capital contributions.

We are obligated to contribute our share to fund maturities if the loans are not refinanced, and we have the capacity to do so from existing cash balances, availability on our Line, and operating cash flows. We believe that our partners are financially sound and have sufficient capital or access thereto to fund future capital requirements. In the event that a real estate investment partner is unable to fund its share of the capital requirements of the real estate partnership, we would have the right, but not the obligation, to loan the defaulting partner the amount of its capital call which would be secured by the partner's membership interest.

Management fee income

In addition to earning our share of net income or loss in each of these real estate partnerships, we recognized fees as follows:

	Three months ended September 30,		Nine months ended September 30,
(in thousands)	2026	2025	2026	2025
Management, transaction, and other fees	$ 7,085	6,640	$ 21,074	20,471

Critical Accounting Estimates

There have been no material changes in our Critical Accounting Estimates from the information provided in the "Critical Accounting Estimates" section of "Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in our Form 10-K.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

We are exposed to two significant components of interest rate risk:

- Under the Line, we have a variable interest rate that, as of September 30, 2026, was based upon SOFR plus a 0.10% market adjustment ("Adjusted SOFR") plus an applicable margin of 0.685%. SOFR rates charged on our Line change daily, and the applicable margin on the Line is dependent upon maintaining specific credit ratings or leverage targets, as well as meeting specific sustainability target thresholds. If our credit ratings were downgraded or if we fail to meet the leverage targets or sustainability target thresholds, the applicable margin on the Line would increase, resulting in higher interest costs. As of September 30, 2026 the Adjusted SOFR plus the applicable margin of 0.685% was 4.655%.
- We are also exposed to changes in interest rates when we refinance our existing long-term fixed rate debt. The objective of our interest rate risk management program is to limit the impact of interest rate changes on earnings and cash flows. To achieve these objectives, we borrow primarily at fixed interest rates and may also enter into derivative financial instruments such as interest rate swaps, caps, or treasury locks in order to mitigate our interest rate risk on a related financial instrument. We do not enter into derivative or interest rate transactions for speculative purposes. Our interest rate swaps are structured solely for the purpose of interest rate protection.

We continuously monitor capital market conditions and assess our ability to refinance maturing debt and to fund our commitments. Based on our current credit ratings, the available capacity under our unsecured credit facility, and the number of unencumbered high quality properties we own that could serve as collateral, we believe we will be able to issue new secured or unsecured debt to finance maturing debt obligations; however, the extent to which capital market volatility and changes in interest rates may adversely affect the cost or availability of such financing remains uncertain.

The table below presents the principal cash flows, weighted average interest rates of remaining debt, and the fair value of total debt as of September 30, 2026. For variable rate mortgages for which we have interest rate swaps in place to fix the interest rate, they are included in the Fixed rate debt section below at their all-in fixed rate. The table is presented by year of expected maturity to evaluate the expected cash flows and sensitivity to interest rate changes. Although the average interest rate for variable rate debt is included in the table, those rates represent rates that existed as of September 30, 2026, and are subject to change. We continually assess the market risk for our floating-rate debt. As of September 30, 2026, $30 million out of our $115.0 million outstanding balance under our variable-rate line of credit was effectively fixed through an interest rate swap. Substantially all of our variable-rate mortgage debt was also effectively fixed through interest rate swaps or otherwise bore fixed contractual rates. Based on our remaining unhedged floating-rate debt of $85.0 million, a hypothetical 100 basis point increase in interest rates would increase annualized interest expense by approximately $0.9 million, assuming outstanding balances and hedging arrangements remain unchanged. We do not believe such an increase would have a material impact on future earnings or cash flows.

Further, the table below incorporates only those exposures that exist as of September 30, 2026, and does not consider exposures or positions that could arise after that date or obligations repaid before maturity. Since firm but unused commitments are not presented, the table has limited predictive value. As a result, our ultimate realized gain or loss with respect to interest rate fluctuations will depend on the exposures that arise during the period, our hedging strategies at that time, and actual interest rates.

The table below presents the principal cash flow payments associated with our outstanding debt by year, weighted average interest rates on debt outstanding at each year-end, and fair value of total debt as of September 30, 2026.

(dollars in thousands)	2026	2027	2028	2029	2030	Thereafter	Total	Fair Value

[2] Reflects weighted average interest rates of debt outstanding at the end of each year presented. For variable rate debt, the rate as of September 30, 2026, was used to determine the average interest rate for all future periods.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Controls and Procedures (Regency Centers Corporation)

Under the supervision and with the participation of the Parent Company's management, including its chief executive officer and chief financial officer, the Parent Company conducted an evaluation of its disclosure controls and procedures, as such term is defined under Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). Based on this evaluation, the Parent Company's chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that its disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of the end of the period covered by this quarterly report on Form 10-Q to ensure information required to be disclosed in the reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time period specified in the SEC's rules and forms. These disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Parent Company in the reports it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to management, including its chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

There have been no changes in the Parent Company's internal controls over financial reporting identified in connection with this evaluation that occurred during the quarter ended September 30, 2026 which have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Parent Company’s internal controls over financial reporting.

Controls and Procedures (Regency Centers, L.P.)

Under the supervision and with the participation of the Operating Partnership's management, including the chief executive officer and chief financial officer of its general partner, the Operating Partnership conducted an evaluation of its disclosure controls and procedures, as such term is defined under Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) promulgated under the Exchange Act. Based on this evaluation, the chief executive officer and chief financial officer of its general partner concluded that the Operating Partnership's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of the end of the period covered by this quarterly report on Form 10-Q to ensure information required to be disclosed in the reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time period specified in the SEC's rules and forms. These disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Operating Partnership in the reports it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to management, including the chief executive officer and chief financial officer of its general partner, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

There have been no changes in the Operating Partnership's internal controls over financial reporting identified in connection with this evaluation that occurred during the quarter ended September 30, 2026 which have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Operating Partnership’s internal controls over financial reporting.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

See Note 13 — Commitments and Contingencies in the Notes for discussion regarding material legal proceedings and contingencies. Except as set forth in such discussion, there have been no material developments in legal proceedings as reported in Item 3. "Legal Proceedings" of our 2025 Form 10-K.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

In addition to the information set forth in this Report, please also refer to the Risk Factors set forth in Item 1A. of Part I of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 (“2025 Annual Report”).

In Item 1A of our Form 10-K, we include a risk factor which is titled "Macroeconomic, political, and geopolitical conditions and governmental policies may adversely impact consumer confidence and spending and the businesses of our tenants and could, in turn, adversely impact our business." This risk factor discusses, among other risks, those related to geopolitical conflicts in the Middle East. Since the filing of our Form 10-K, a significant military conflict primarily involving the U.S., Israel and Iran, but which has also involved other countries in the Middle East, has commenced. This conflict has exacerbated certain risks previously disclosed, including the risk of energy market volatility due to impacts of the conflict on the global price of oil. Sustained increases or volatility in energy prices may contribute to broader inflationary pressures, increase operating costs at our properties, and adversely impact our tenants’ sales, costs, operating margins and financial condition. These conditions may reduce tenant demand for our space, impair tenant ability to meet their lease obligations, and limit our ability to fully recover operating costs and cost increases. In addition, inflationary pressures and higher energy costs may increase the cost of construction and construction materials, which could impact the feasibility, timing and returns of our development and redevelopment projects, as well as the cost of tenant improvements and other capital projects at our properties. The extent and duration of the current Iran-based conflict remains uncertain and, if it continues unresolved for a meaningful period of time, could materially affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds

There were no unregistered sales of equity securities during the three months ended September 30, 2026.

The following table represents information with respect to purchases by the Parent Company of its common stock, by month, during the three months ended September 30, 2026:

Period	Total number of shares purchased [1]	Average price paid per share	Total number of shares purchased as part of publicly announced plans or programs [2]	Maximum number or approximate dollar value of shares that may yet be purchased under the plans or programs (in thousands) [2]

September 1 through September 30, 2026	64	$ 75.93	—	$ 500,000

[1] Represents shares repurchased to cover payment of withholding taxes in connection with restricted stock vesting by participants under Regency’s Long-Term Omnibus Plan.

[2] On February 4, 2026, our Board approved a new common stock repurchase program, which replaced our existing program. The new program authorizes up to $500 million in repurchases, and the Company may purchase shares of its outstanding common stock through open market purchases and/or privately negotiated transactions, subject to market conditions and other factors. Any stock repurchased, if not retired, will be treated as treasury stock. The expiration date of the new repurchase program is February 28, 2029, unless modified, extended or earlier terminated by the Board in its discretion.

Item 3. Defaults Upon Senior Securities

None.

Item 4. Mine Safety Disclosures

Not applicable.

Item 5. Other Information

Rule 10b5-1 Trading Plans

During the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2026, none of our directors or officers (as defined in Rule 16a-1 under the Exchange Act) adopted or terminated a "Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement" or "non-Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement" (as those terms are defined in Item 408 of Regulation S-K).

Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers Appointment of Executive Officers

On November 3, 2026, the Board of Directors of the Company (the “Board”) approved changes to the titles of two of the Company’s executive officers, each effective November 3, 2026, as follows:

Alan T. Roth, the Company’s East Region President and Chief Operating Officer, was appointed its Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Mr. Roth will be responsible for operations strategy and processes nationally.

Nicholas A. Wibbenmeyer, the Company’s West Region President and Chief Investment Officer, was appointed its Executive Vice President and Chief Investment Officer. Mr. Wibbenmeyer will be responsible for investment and development strategy and processes nationally.

The duties and responsibilities of each of Messrs. Roth and Wibbenmeyer will be similar to those he held before the change in title, except that he will no longer serve as East Region President (in the case of Mr. Roth) and West Region President (in the case of Mr. Wibbenmeyer).

Mr. Roth, age 51, has been the Company’s East Region President and Chief Operating Officer since January 2024. Before this role, he served as Executive Vice President, National Operations and East Region President from January 2023 through December 2023. Before that, he served as Senior Managing Director, East Region, from 2020 through December 2022. Mr. Roth has also held various other leadership positions at the Company, including Managing Director of the Northeast, Mid-Atlantic and Southeast Regions, respectively; Senior Vice President and Senior Market Officer for the Mid-Atlantic and Northeast portfolio; and Vice President and Regional Officer. Mr. Roth joined the Company as a Leasing Agent in 1997 through the Company’s acquisition of Midland Development Group, and is a graduate of the Kelley School of Business at Indiana University.

Mr. Wibbenmeyer, age 46, has been the Company’s West Region President and Chief Investment Officer since January 2024. Before this role, he served as Executive Vice President, West Region President from January 2023 through December 2023. Before that, he served as Senior Managing Director, West Region, from 2020 through December 2022. Mr. Wibbenmeyer has also held various other leadership positions at the Company, including Managing Director of Florida and the Midwest Region, respectively; Senior Vice President and Senior Market Officer; Vice President and Market Officer; and Vice President of Investments. Mr. Wibbenmeyer joined the Company in 2005 as Manager of Investments for the Company’s Upper Midwest portfolio, and is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame.

The compensation of Messrs. Roth and Wibbenmeyer was not changed in connection with their changes in title. Neither officer entered into, or received any grant or award under, any new or materially amended plan, contract or arrangement in connection with his change in title. Each of Messrs. Roth and Wibbenmeyer will continue to participate in the Company’s retirement and deferred compensation plans, severance and other benefit plans and programs of the Company.

There are no arrangements or understandings between either Mr. Roth or Mr. Wibbenmeyer and any other person pursuant to which he was selected as an officer. Neither Mr. Roth nor Mr. Wibbenmeyer is a party to any transaction required to be disclosed pursuant to Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K. Neither has any family relationship with any director or executive officer of the Company required to be disclosed pursuant to Item 401(d) of Regulation S-K.

I, Lisa Palmer, certify that:

1. I have reviewed this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q of Regency Centers Corporation ("registrant");

2. Based on my knowledge, this report does not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which such statements were made, not misleading with respect to the period covered by this report;

3. Based on my knowledge, the financial statements, and other financial information included in this report, fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the registrant as of, and for, the periods presented in this report;

4. The registrant's other certifying officer and I are responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) and internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f)) for the registrant and have:

   (a) Designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused such disclosure controls and procedures to be designed under our supervision, to ensure that material information relating to the registrant, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which this report is being prepared;

   (b) Designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused such internal control over financial reporting to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;

   (c) Evaluated the effectiveness of the registrant's disclosure controls and procedures and presented in this report our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures, as of the end of the period covered by this report based on such evaluation; and

   (d) Disclosed in this report any change in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the registrant's most recent fiscal quarter (the registrant's fourth fiscal quarter in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal control over financial reporting; and

5. The registrant's other certifying officer and I have disclosed, based on our most recent evaluation of internal control over financial reporting, to the registrant's auditors and the audit committee of the registrant's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):

   (a) All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the registrant's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information; and

   (b) Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting.
